Family Income and Expense Form
2024-2025Purpose of Form

Generally, the Family Income and Expense Form is requested to provide a more detailed picture of your family's financial strength. This form collects information about income received in 2022 as well as some of the most common expenses that were likely incurred in 2022. Please note that all information reported should pertain to you and your FAFSA contributing parent(s).

General Instructions

When reporting income, be sure to report all sources of income, whether domestic or foreign, for both you and your FAFSA contributing parent(s).

Students must report FAFSA contributing parent'(s) expenses for 2022. Carefully read each item and report monthly expenses where appropriate. Multiply all monthly expenses by 12 to calculate the annual amount. If a monthly expense was not incurred for all 12 months of 2022, provide only the total amount for that particular expense in 2022 and provide a statement explaining the situation. For example, if car payments were made for only 6 months instead of 12 because the car was paid off after 6 months, provide a statement to clarify.

If your 2022 expenses exceeded your 2022 reported income, you must provide a written explanation of how you and/or your family were meeting expenses. Forms showing greater total expense than income and received without a written explanation will be considered incomplete. If you wish to provide any additional information regarding your or your family's financial circumstances, please submit it along with this form.

Student Financial Services may request third-party documentation to confirm the values you report on your Family Income and Expense Form. Should you or a parent submit a form with incorrect information, you must also submit third-party documentation to confirm the correct values. Adjustments to a financial aid package as a result of submitting documentation to correct a Family Income and Expense Form are neither guaranteed nor immediate.

Forms received without the appropriate signature(s) or with missing information/pages are considered incomplete and must be resubmitted. Do not leave any questions blank. Submitting incomplete forms or documents will delay the evaluation of your financial aid eligibility and the awarding of your financial aid.
